

Fall Workshop
Pathways by Sue Reed
November 3 and 4, 2007

This bright, cheery pattern is an exercise in shading and in controlling a hand-dyed thread. In class you will learn how to work with a skein of hand-dyed thread (in this instance a silk) and manipulate it to color match various elements of the design. You will learn color manipulation and shading of solid threads by thread blending strands of cotton floss and by decreasing the number of strands used in order to suggest a hint of pattern. Color choices will be available. The student will preselect white or buttercream canvas.

Design size: 71/2" x 71/2" on canvas cut to 12" x 12"

Canvas: #18 mono

Proficiency level: Advanced intermediate

Cost:

- $95.00 for Gateway Chapter members
- $115.00 ANG members
- $130 all others

Sign up deadline: September 24, 2007

Send your check to:
Susan Lucco, Program Chair
1110 St. Louis Street
Edwardsville, IL 62025

Make check payable to Gateway ANG